Cambodia
Temples and People
(Exhibition: February 23rd through April 5th)

Jerry Porter is a Professor of Mathematics, Emeritus. He has been at Penn since 1966. He enjoys traveling, taking photos, and sharing his experiences with others. These pictures were taken on a trip to Cambodia in January 2012. Included are photos from the Angkor complex of temples, the temple ruins at Beng Malea and Banteay Srei; pictures of people along the main highway from Siem Reap to Phnom Penh; photos in Phnom Penh at the Royal Palace Complex and at Wat Phnom. The photos at Wat Phnom were taken during the Chinese New Year’s celebration.

Please stop by the Opening Reception
March 14th from 4-6pm.

The Burrison Gallery is located in the University Club at Penn on the 2nd floor of The Inn at Penn, 3611 Walnut Street
